

Daily Democrat.

Printed and Published by
HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.
Office—East Third Street, between Market and Jefferson.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, IN ADVANCE.
Daily Democrat, $1.00 per month.
By mail, $1.00 per month.
By mail, $1.00 per month.
By mail, $1.00 per month.

DEPARTURE OF TRAINS.
FROM JEFFERSONVILLE.
St. Louis and Indianapolis Express, 9:30 a. m.
Indianapolis and Cincinnati Express, 9:30 a. m.
St. Louis, Indianapolis and Cincinnati Night, 11:30 p. m.

LOUISVILLE, NEW ALBANY AND CHICAGO RAILROAD.
LEAVE NEW ALBANY.
Chicago and St. Louis Express, 9:30 a. m.
Chicago and St. Louis Express, 9:30 a. m.
Chicago and St. Louis Express, 9:30 a. m.

LOOK TO YOUR INTERESTS.
The people are aware that O. H. Hare, No. 427 Main street, is the oldest, largest and most experienced manufacturer of trunks and similar articles in the city. They should avail themselves of the rare opportunities afforded by Mr. Hare. To country and city mail orders he is prepared to fill at the lowest prices. His warehouse is located in the retail line and cannot be equaled. Whoever wants to travel, whether with a small carpet-bag or a mammoth trunk, need go no further than to the Great Western Trunk Factory of Mr. Hare.

BEAUTIFUL SPRING GOODS FOR GENTLEMEN'S CLOTHING.—We invite attention to the card of Mr. Swain, merchant, on Main street, Fourth street. This gentleman has on hand a stock of the most beautiful French, English and American cloths, cassimeres and vestings, designed especially for the spring styles. The cutting and designing department of this establishment is under well known and artistic control, and a guarantee to give entire satisfaction is awarded to each gentleman who patronizes the establishment. The public are invited to call and examine his stock of goods for coats, pants and vests, before making their selections. Fit, fashion, fabric and price warranted to give entire satisfaction.

HOOP SKIRTS—THE CHEAPEST AND BEST STYLES OFFERED TO THE TRADE.—Benson & Thayer are now daily receiving from the manufacturers a very large supply of the best styles of hoop skirts offered to the market—made to their own order and expressly for their own sales—in style new and peculiar to their house, and cannot be duplicated anywhere else. The quality of the Watch Spring used in our hoop is of the very best, and warranted to be every way superior to the cheap ones. Merchants visiting the market are respectfully invited to examine our skirts before buying. They will find them at a very low price, and at near 25 per cent less than any other, excepting the quality of ours, can be sold.

HOOP SKIRTS.—John M. Robinson & Co. are now manufacturing a large stock of the Spring trade. Their skirts have attained great popularity, as they use only the very best tempered watch spring steel, and each hoop is fastened to the tapes by means of a wire loop instead of the ordinary clasp. They are especially prepared to make the tapes being constantly cut. Their skirts can be had at all the retail houses throughout the South and West. Sold only at wholesale.

IT IS A TIME when there is great fear that the stock of dry lumber, oak, doors, blinds, etc., will fall short, owing to the lack of improvements in Louisville, it is interesting to the public to know that Alexander, Ellis & Co., have enlarged their factory and have now on hand several million of dry lumber, oak, at their office on Main street, nearly opposite the Galt House, or at their factory on Fulton, above Preston street.

IT IS ASTONISHING how rapidly a truly valuable medicine comes into general use. It is but a little over a year since Dr. John Bull commenced the manufacture of his Compound of Wild Cherry, and now it is difficult to find a citizen of the United States where it is not known and used, and its wonderful powers acknowledged, and in many instances by physicians themselves.

Merchants visiting this market are advised to call on Sandford, Duncan & Co., and examine their large stock of the Compound of Wild Cherry for the spring trade. Their stock of fancy dress goods, of every description, is certainly beautiful. They also have Wallace's celebrated hoop skirts.

Children are quick to learn and strong to remember whatever concerns their comfort, and they have pretty generally come to the conclusion that they will take anything money can obtain. The underlined boy here to inform his friends that he has opened the above house, where he can always be found, together with a good stock of the best figures or cigars. The public—his big brother—are cordially invited to give him a call.

WATER.—$10.000 Spanish and Mexican Quarters at 25 cents, also uncured money of every description, for which I will pay the very highest market price.

SUNDRIES.—$10.000 Spanish and Mexican Quarters at 25 cents, also uncured money of every description, for which I will pay the very highest market price.

LOUISVILLE, KY., SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 12, 1880.

Webster's excellent photographs are in every respect all that is desirable in a plain portrait.

We are indebted to Mr. Frank Wright, of the Adams Express, for New Orleans papers of Wednesday.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of C. Sargent, corner of Eleventh and Market streets.

A bill for the enlargement of the Louisville and Portland Canal passed the Senate yesterday by a large majority.

Thanks to Mr. Hobbitt, messenger of the Adams Express, for Nashville papers of yesterday and New Orleans papers of Tuesday.

We learn that a small child of Mr. Alexander Harns fell from the second-story porch to the pavement yesterday, and was seriously injured.

Vaughn's celebrated mirror of Italy will be exhibited in Louisville next week, in conjunction with Signor Morillo's automaton illusions.

Louisiana lands, which had been withdrawn from market some years, are now offered to purchasers, and offices are opened to transact the business.

We would direct the attention of those who desire to obtain choice strawberry plants to the advertisement of Mr. J. L. Younglove, Bowlinggreen, Kentucky.

The Doom of Devil continues to attract large crowds to the theater. Miss Jose Goughen is more fascinating than ever, and is positively immense as the heroine of this piece.

A school girl was nearly burned to death in a Cincinnati school, Thursday. She undertook to stir the fire in a stove when the flames flashed up, ignited her clothing, and she was dying at the latest accounts.

Cute Boy—"Papa," said a little boy to his father the other day, "are not sailors very very small men?" "No, my dear," answered his father. "They are not small."

It was a queer compliment to enterprise, that of the old reprobate upon his deathbed wishing to be handed over to the Adams Express to be delivered, right side up with care, inside the gates of heaven. We have no doubt that the company undertaken the job they would have accomplished it. We again thank them for new favors.

We ask the attention of our readers to the card, in another column, of Messrs. Moore, Wheeler & Robinson, successors to George S. Moore, wholesale grocers and commission merchants, and agents for the sale of cold and hot blast pig iron and the Star Nail Works.

We are acquainted with the members of the new firm, and recommend them as good business men, reliable and fair in all their dealings. Give them a call.

SENATOR BIGLER AND THE PENNSYLVANIA DELEGATION.—"Harmony," the celebrated New York correspondent of the Mobile (Ala.) Register, states that, before Senator Bigler was elected a delegate to the Charleston Convention, he gave a solemn promise that, after the third ballot, he would join the rest of the Pennsylvania delegates, and vote for Douglas to the end. It was with this distinct understanding, given in writing, that Senator Bigler was made delegate at large.

This is St. Patrick's day, the carnival of Hibernians all over the world. There will be processions, feasts, and, if the truth be told, a little bit of the old song says, "The Shamrock and the Saltire, the old song says, '—was a gentleman, and came of decent people. He built a church in Dublin, and his memory is to be revered as much as Fourth of July, who was as good a man as St. Patrick, as an enthusiastic Irishman once had it.

We learn from the Guardian that on Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, will take place the laying of the corner stone of the new Church of St. Patrick's, to be erected on the corner of Market and Thirteenth streets.

The Legislature of Mississippi raised the taxes to seventy-five cents on each negro, instead of forty, as heretofore; twenty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of land, instead of sixteen cents—thus doubling the tax on slaves, and increasing that on lands twenty-five per cent. With all this, it will be seen, however, that the taxation on "personal property" is not increased.

Who would not have their kitchen chamber and parlor carpeted, when they can have all sorts of carpets at extremely low prices? Attend the sale which takes place on Monday, March 16th, at ten o'clock a. m., at L. Kahn & Co.'s, 1. Grauman, auctioneer.

The carpet sale of rug, wool, flannel, all wool, ingrain, and Brussels, and are all fresh from the Eastern manufacturers, with orders to close out without reserve. Also fifty new and well-regulated clocks are included at the sale. All those in want of such articles will do well by attending the sale. Terms, cash—handful funds.

The following is the list of officers of the different wards for the election to be held on Monday, March 19, 1880:

First Ward, First Precinct—Judges—E. L. Brown and E. L. Stoll; Clerk—Charles Gay; Sheriff—A. J. Powers.

First Ward, Second Precinct—Judges—J. L. Hemming and T. B. Brand; Clerk—W. White; Sheriff—J. G. Arnold.

Second Ward, First Precinct—Judges—J. Connel and M. G. Holmes; Clerk—Fred. Frisch; Sheriff—J. M. Wells.

Second Ward, Second Precinct—Judges—A. Kendall and W. W. Read; Clerk—D. G. Dinwiddie; Sheriff—Augustus Hattall.

Third Ward, First Precinct—Judges—L. Lynn and Coleman Daniel; Clerk—W. F. Brown; Sheriff—T. T. Summers.

Fourth Ward—Judges—S. K. Richardson and J. M. Stephens; Clerk—J. Downing, Jr.; Sheriff—S. S. Triplett.

Fifth Ward—Judges—Samuel Matlock and Henry Dick; Clerk—S. S. Modis; Sheriff—J. P. Seibles.

Sixth Ward—Judges—J. Clement and David Wright; Clerk—G. T. Megowan; Sheriff—T. Prather.

PRIVATE BOARDING.—I have three good rooms which I will hire to families or individuals, with boarding.

Free lunch at the Four Seasons on Market, between First and Second, under the Lexington House, this morning, at half past one o'clock. The underlined boy here to inform his friends that he has opened the above house, where he can always be found, together with a good stock of the best figures or cigars. The public—his big brother—are cordially invited to give him a call.

WATER.—$10.000 Spanish and Mexican Quarters at 25 cents, also uncured money of every description, for which I will pay the very highest market price.

SUNDRIES.—$10.000 Spanish and Mexican Quarters at 25 cents, also uncured money of every description, for which I will pay the very highest market price.

PERSONAL.

Dr. Richard Mead, of England, was the first to introduce the custom of having himself called out of church; but he practiced this rare under more favorable advantages than most could. His father was a clergyman, and when the Doctor was summoned out, would say, "Dear brethren, let us offer a prayer for the poor sufferer who lies in bed." In this way the Doctor's Lord Palmerston has submitted the name of the Rev. Dr. Vaughan to the Queen as the new Bishop of Rochester. Dr. Vaughan was lately Master of Harrow.

The daughter of Robert Burns has received only about $1,000 from the subscriptions made in her behalf in Great Britain.

It is rumored that the Legislature of New Jersey will make an appropriation of $50,000 for a copy of Mill's statue of Washington.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

J. Crawford Thom, a young artist of unusual promise, who has been studying in Paris, has just returned to his home in Philadelphia. He has entered the studio of the celebrated painter, and is the highest kind of a compliment to our young countryman, as Frere has not taken a pupil for years.

The house of Michael Angelo, at Florence, which is filled with works of art, has been the property of that city by the bequest of a Frenchman, who has been studying in Paris, and has entered the studio of the celebrated painter, and is the highest kind of a compliment to our young countryman, as Frere has not taken a pupil for years.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of his life during his late severe illness, to the kindness of the citizens of Stonington, who, during his stay there, loaded him with every attention and civility. The most refined and prominent people of the city visited him, sat up with him, and sent him presents and delicacies. When able to leave, six men of wealth and position formed themselves into an escort, and on their own shoulders, carried Mr. Farr, in an easy chair, from his room to the depot, four of them conveying the venerable patient by turns, their companions alternating with them in the self-imposed task. This reminds one of the honors paid to Titian in his old age, centuries ago.

Dr. J. P. FARR.—We learn that this distinguished physician has so far recovered from his late illness, which confined him in Stonington, Connecticut, as to be able to return to his home in Philadelphia. Mr. Farr is a friend in the eighty-third year of his age, and a friend in Friday, commencing another copy of his celebrated edition of Washington, the original having been painted from life in 1795. Mr. Farr attributes, in a great measure, the preservation of Cartier & Buchanan.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS. HOWARD & MIDDLETON.

Field & Garden Seeds. T. O. SHACKLEFORD.

WHOLESALE GROCER. Pitkin, Ward & Co.

SEEDS. Pitkin, Ward & Co.

Garden Seeds. Pitkin, Ward & Co.

Flower Seeds. Pitkin, Ward & Co.

RIVER NEWS.

From New York.

From Baltimore.

From St. Louis.

From New Orleans.

From St. Paul.

From St. Petersburg.

From St. Petersburg.

From St. Petersburg.

From St. Petersburg.

From St. Petersburg.

From St. Petersburg.

From St. Petersburg.

XXXVth Congress—First Session. Washington, March 16.—SENATE.—The President's message to the President...

Several petitions were presented, the contents of which could not be heard in the reporters' gallery.

On motion of Mr. Anthony, a resolution was adopted instructing the Postoffice Committee to inquire into the expediency of providing for the preparation of letters by the Penny Post.

Mr. Latham introduced a bill to create a separate district for the inspection of the boilers and machinery of steam vessels.

The bill authorizing the sale of the public lands to the States, and to regulate the appointment of the Surveyors General of the national surveys, was taken up.

Mr. Hunter said that structures had been erected on the site of the old fortification at Harper's Ferry, which he inquired to the gentleman. He was a good officer, who faithfully performed his duties.

On motion of Mr. Anthony, an amendment was adopted that the sales in each year shall not exceed the increased manufacture which will be sold to the States, and to regulate the appointment of the Surveyors General of the national surveys, was taken up.

Mr. Hunter said that structures had been erected on the site of the old fortification at Harper's Ferry, which he inquired to the gentleman. He was a good officer, who faithfully performed his duties.

On motion of Mr. Anthony, an amendment was adopted that the sales in each year shall not exceed the increased manufacture which will be sold to the States, and to regulate the appointment of the Surveyors General of the national surveys, was taken up.

Mr. Hunter said that structures had been erected on the site of the old fortification at Harper's Ferry, which he inquired to the gentleman. He was a good officer, who faithfully performed his duties.

On motion of Mr. Anthony, an amendment was adopted that the sales in each year shall not exceed the increased manufacture which will be sold to the States, and to regulate the appointment of the Surveyors General of the national surveys, was taken up.

Mr. Hunter said that structures had been erected on the site of the old fortification at Harper's Ferry, which he inquired to the gentleman. He was a good officer, who faithfully performed his duties.

On motion of Mr. Anthony, an amendment was adopted that the sales in each year shall not exceed the increased manufacture which will be sold to the States, and to regulate the appointment of the Surveyors General of the national surveys, was taken up.

Mr. Hunter said that structures had been erected on the site of the old fortification at Harper's Ferry, which he inquired to the gentleman. He was a good officer, who faithfully performed his duties.

On motion of Mr. Anthony, an amendment was adopted that the sales in each year shall not exceed the increased manufacture which will be sold to the States, and to regulate the appointment of the Surveyors General of the national surveys, was taken up.

Mr. Hunter said that structures had been erected on the site of the old fortification at Harper's Ferry, which he inquired to the gentleman. He was a good officer, who faithfully performed his duties.

On motion of Mr. Anthony, an amendment was adopted that the sales in each year shall not exceed the increased manufacture which will be sold to the States, and to regulate the appointment of the Surveyors General of the national surveys, was taken up.

Mr. Hunter said that structures had been erected on the site of the old fortification at Harper's Ferry, which he inquired to the gentleman. He was a good officer, who faithfully performed his duties.

On motion of Mr. Anthony, an amendment was adopted that the sales in each year shall not exceed the increased manufacture which will be sold to the States, and to regulate the appointment of the Surveyors General of the national surveys, was taken up.

Washington Items. Wherefore, March 16.—David P. Keen, ex-Congressman from New York, was this morning found dead in his room. From facts and circumstances it is supposed that he died suddenly yesterday while preparing for dinner. He had previously appeared in his usual health.

SENATE, in executive session today, revised its action of yesterday and placed the Nicaragua treaty in a position for consideration. Three hours to-day were thus consumed in the discussion of the treaty.

Without dissent from the majority, the Senate struck out the paragraph by which the United States agreed to use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

They are, in substance, that on the failure of Nicaragua to afford protection, the United States may, with the consent of the United States, use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

Without dissent from the majority, the Senate struck out the paragraph by which the United States agreed to use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

They are, in substance, that on the failure of Nicaragua to afford protection, the United States may, with the consent of the United States, use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

Without dissent from the majority, the Senate struck out the paragraph by which the United States agreed to use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

They are, in substance, that on the failure of Nicaragua to afford protection, the United States may, with the consent of the United States, use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

Without dissent from the majority, the Senate struck out the paragraph by which the United States agreed to use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

They are, in substance, that on the failure of Nicaragua to afford protection, the United States may, with the consent of the United States, use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

Without dissent from the majority, the Senate struck out the paragraph by which the United States agreed to use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

They are, in substance, that on the failure of Nicaragua to afford protection, the United States may, with the consent of the United States, use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

Without dissent from the majority, the Senate struck out the paragraph by which the United States agreed to use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

They are, in substance, that on the failure of Nicaragua to afford protection, the United States may, with the consent of the United States, use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

Without dissent from the majority, the Senate struck out the paragraph by which the United States agreed to use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

They are, in substance, that on the failure of Nicaragua to afford protection, the United States may, with the consent of the United States, use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

Without dissent from the majority, the Senate struck out the paragraph by which the United States agreed to use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

They are, in substance, that on the failure of Nicaragua to afford protection, the United States may, with the consent of the United States, use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

Without dissent from the majority, the Senate struck out the paragraph by which the United States agreed to use its moral and political influence to prevent hostile expeditions against the Republic of Nicaragua.

For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

LOUISVILLE AND HENDERSON PACKET LINE. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

Notice. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

U. S. MAIL LINE STEAMERS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

McCLEAN'S STRENGTHENING CORDIAL. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

THE GREAT MUSICAL COMEDIAN. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

MR. JAMES HICKS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

AMUSEMENTS. Louisville Theater. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

Unprecedented Attraction. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

Waugh's Original Mirror of Italy. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

Three Reasons for Preferring. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

For the first time in Louisville. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

DR. J. H. HARRIS & CO. Proprietors. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans. For Cairo, Memphis and New Orleans.

